Saving Your PlantMaster Projects

We've said this before but certain things are worth repeating: Please export all your valuable PlantMaster projects to your hard drive. How to do this:

- Click on the blue button marked "Projects"
- Check to see the name of the project. Make sure this is the project you want to save.
- Click on the button "export project".
- A window opens to your hard drive.
- Save your project in a folder marked PlantMaster Projects. This will help keep you organized.

Your PlantMaster projects need to reside outside of PlantMaster. Keeping a copy of your projects is a safety precaution just in case PlantMaster gets bitten by a bug that causes deletions or corruptions of your projects. Then you can import your project from your hard drive back into PlantMaster if necessary. You can export your project even if it's unfinished; just add the date to the name of the project, to the right of "export name".

Sincerely,

Anne Chilcott
